How to work does it work?

Ally - 'I can work from photos. It is usually helpful to send A couple of photos so I can get a feel for the subject. You must however own the rights or have written permission to use the photo. Once I have a subject to work from we need to discuss size, media and agree a timeline. I like to work with my clients to capture both likeness and that special element that captures the character of your pet. Hopefully we can work together to create that special piece that you will love for many years to come.'
